Residents do battle against more village annexations

by GLORIA DAVIS

Residents of Antioch Twp. have gone the way of many other Lake County property owners and decided to join forces in combating the growing rapid pace of housing development and the continued annexation of the unincorporated areas surrounding the Village of Antioch.

They formed an organization called the Antioch Twp. Assn. at a meeting attended by 35 people and have opened an office at 22195 W. North Ave. where anyone seeking additional information about the association, its objectives or how to gain membership can visit or call (312)395-5250.

This organization is being spearheaded by Frank Sullivan, township resident and a floor trader at the Chicago Stock Exchange.

The organization, hoping to grow in size, wants to help limit the annexation of the open space in Antioch Twp.

The biggest thrust of their fight will be aimed at the village's plans to annex the unincorporated area that runs east of the village to Rte. 45 and south from the Wisconsin border to Grass Lake Rd.

According to Sullivan, the village zoning board already is considering maps of this area.

"It would be nice if the people that live there would have something to say about what happens to their property," says Sullivan.

"We will be attempting to contact people in the areas concerned and let them know what's happening," said Sullivan.

The group intends to show up en masse at public hearings on such annexations, get out petitions against them and get commitments from candidates for mayor of Antioch and township assessor to join their fight.

These candidates the members will back to the hilt. Residents of the village are also welcomed and needed.

"We'll all be paying for the increase in taxes for the schools, the sewers and the roads," adds Sullivan.

Toft has quite different version of lawsuit ending

by GLORIA DAVIS

When Antioch Atty. Robert Long dropped his lawsuit against Antioch Mayor Ray Toft, in the name of the village, at the beginning of July, he told Lakeland Newspapers that his decision to drop the suit filed on March 11, before it reached the courtroom, was based on the fact that "the case has accomplished my original goals of placing the cost of the mailing on the private party responsible, Toft."

Mayor Toft presents the following letter as putting forth what he claims are the real reasons that Long dropped the lawsuit.

Mr. Long: You have already received a copy of my appearance filed on behalf of the mayor, Raymond A. Toft, in the taxpayer derivative action that you initiated on March 11, 1988. Also, you have already been furnished by Mr. Smart a copy of a motion for summary judgement with various affidavits and exhibits annexed thereto.

Your attention is directed to Biller Press & Manufacturing, Inc.'s check of March 9, 1988 whereby the postage that was incurred in mailing of the letters was paid by the printer. Please note that the check in payment was made two days prior to the filing of your lawsuit. Further, the printer was fully reimbursed his expenses by the Defendant Toft on April 18, 1988.

It is apparent that your lawsuit was drafted in haste without any reasonable investigation being performed on your part to substantiate the allegations set forth in your complaint.

Since the claimed wrong as set forth in your complaint was but one isolated incident, I question the propriety of your initiating suit without ample time devoted to investigating the merits of the cause. Clearly, you were not constrained by any statute of limitations.

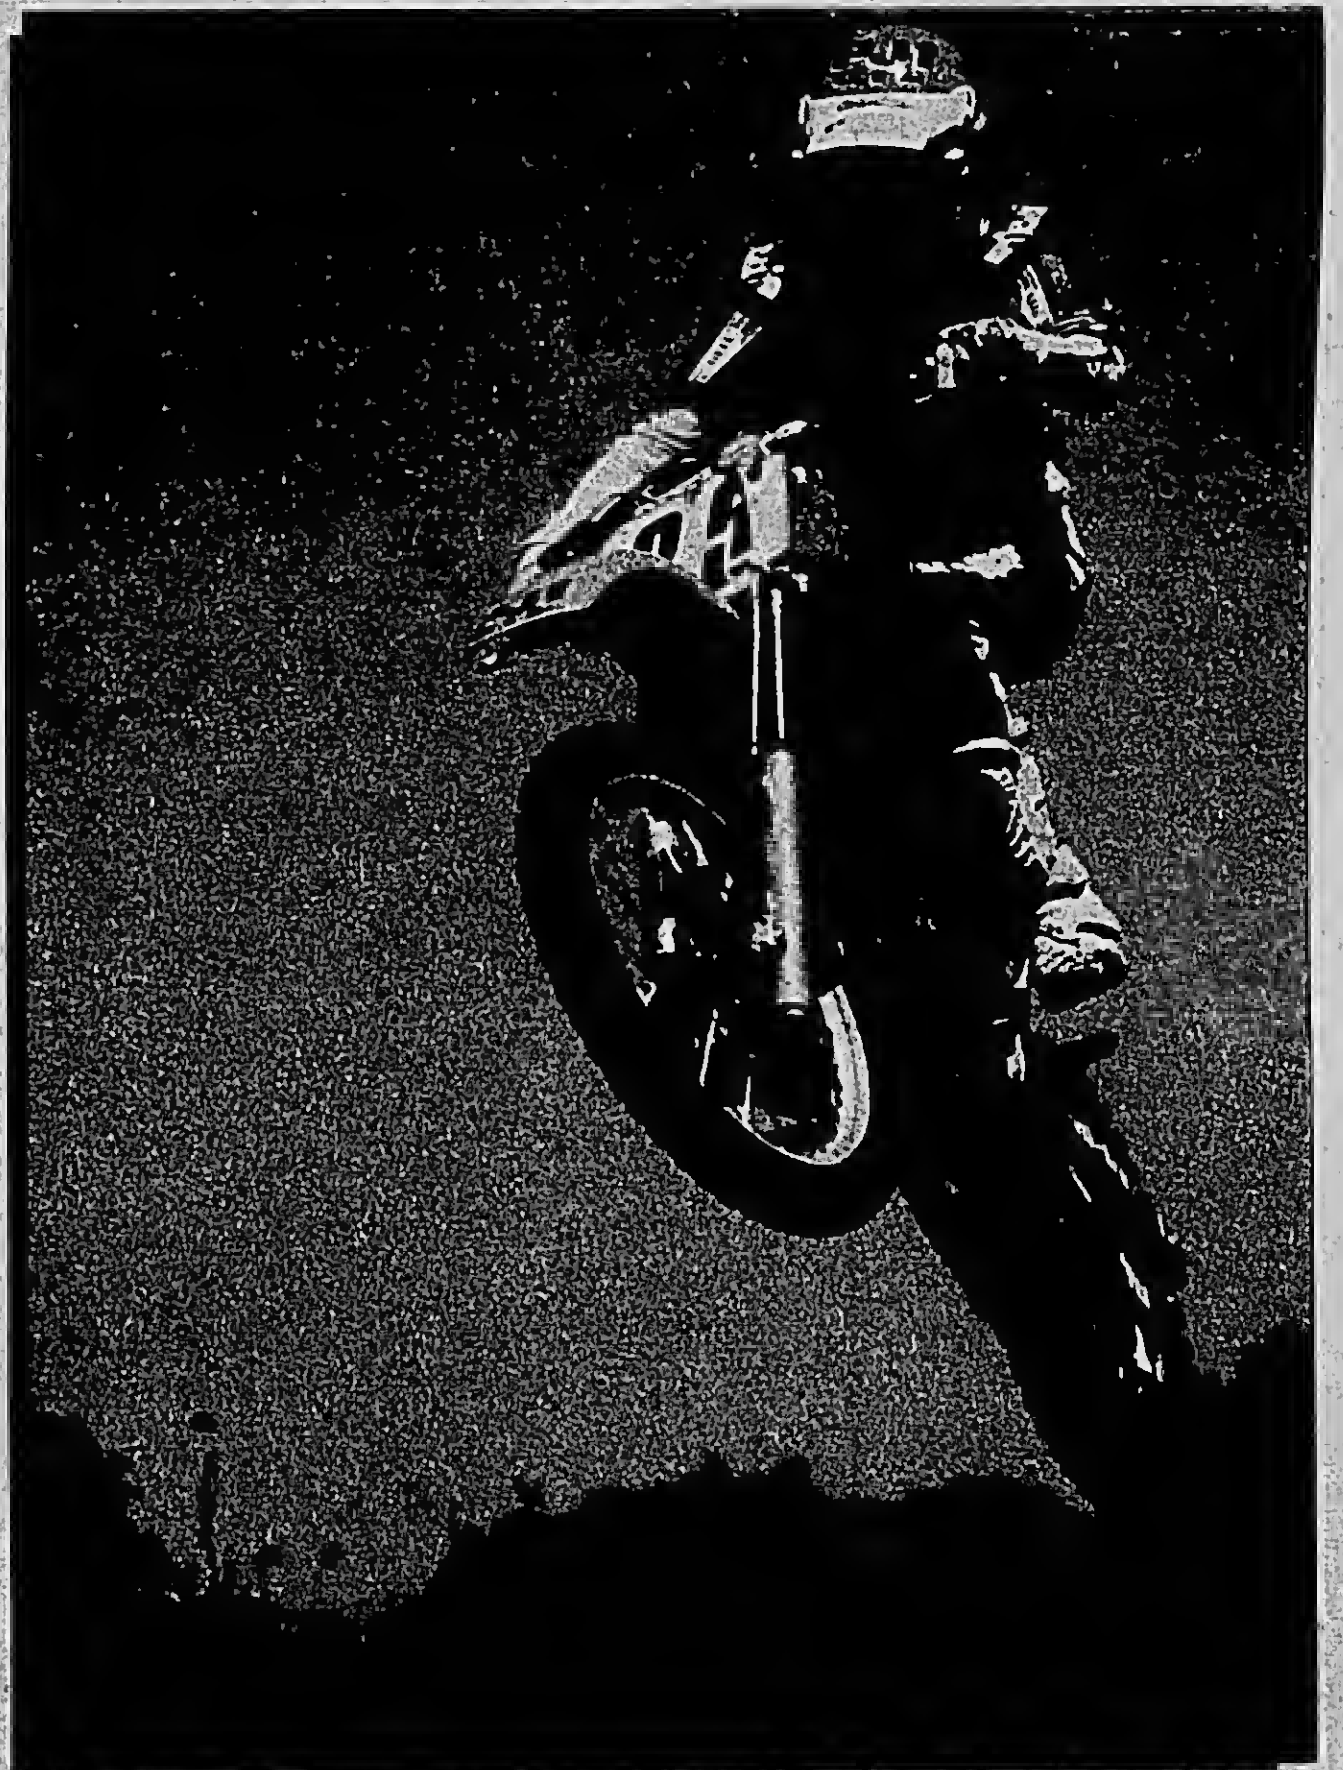

The inadvertent use of the bulk mailing permit of the village did not in any way precipitate an expenditure of additional funds of the village. Further, the actual printing costs and mailing costs were paid not by the village but by the mayor in his individual capacity.

If you question this statement and refuse to accept the validity of the exhibits attached to the various affidavits filed in support of the motion for summary judgement, you are at liberty to contact the printer, Mr. Norman Biller. In fact, I would urge you to do so so as not to further burden our courts with frivolous litigation.

The purpose of this letter is to direct your attention to the provisions of s2-611 (claim that the suit has no basis in law) of the Illinois Code of Civil Procedure. I would ask that you reconsider your position and take immediate voluntary nonsuit of your complaint.

If you refuse to do so and continue to use this lawsuit as a vehicle to further your own political ambitions, I will vigorously pursue a motion under s2-611 for recoupment of all costs, including attorney's fees, once the litigation has been concluded in a finding favorable to the Mayor.

The letter to Long was drafted by the law firm of Kuseski, Flanigan & Associates, Waukegan, Toft's attorneys.

FOX LAKE—Members of the Village of Fox Lake Board of Trustees, along with the superintendent of sewers and water and representatives of an engineering consulting team, traveled to the nation's capitol last week in search of additional funding to update technology at the local sewage treatment plant. Trustees Margaret Paull and Richard Bayne, as well as Superintendent Rich Leber, described their meeting with federal Environmental Protection Agency officials as productive. They said they now have a better understanding of the process for obtaining grants and loans to complete the mandated project.

Developer tells plans

GRAYSLAKE —Developer Phil Wells gave the Grayslake Plan Commission members an outline for a 90 unit single-family subdivision at the Streeter-Armet-Mangood property. The subdivision would be called South Creek. The development consists of 30 acres. No formal action was taken by the plan commission, which continued the hearing until its September meeting.

Cocaine bust made

VERNON HILLS—A resident has been arrested for allegedly attempting to sell about $11,000 worth of cocaine. He was arrested by Lake County Drug Enforcement Group agents near the McDonald's restaurant entrance in the Hawthorn Shopping Center.

Residents fight density

ANTIOCH — A group of Antioch Twp. residents have formed an organization to fight growing housing development and the continuing annexation of unincorporated areas in the township into the Village of Antioch. The group, looking for increased membership, will target property east of village to Rte. 45 and south of state line to Grass Lake Rd. which the village is discussing annexing. "Everyone will have to pay for the increase costs of sewers, schools and roads," says spearheader of organization, Frank Sullivan.

Taxes going up

LINDENHURST—Full effect of the new Lindenhurst Park District is yet to be felt on tax bills, says Lake Villa Twp. Assessor Mike Karasinski. The projected $70 to $80 added tax for an average home will be more like $100-plus, says the assessor, because there are no average homes in Lindenhurst. He said the tax impact will be especially noticable on newer homes. Park district officials say the effect might not be as noticable if the village's assessed valuation rises, as it has done over the past several years.

Dogs not welcome

LINDENHURST—An ordinance to stop pets from littering on streets and, eventually, polluting the village's lakes, has been proposed. Mayor Robert Ratch asked what can be done about homeowners with pets living on the lakes or the lawn fertilizer that also washes into the lakes. He said the beautiful ducks and geese are equally to blame. If this can't be done, Trustee Wilma Wetzel said, post reminder signs or have a neighborhood watch program to report on errant pets and owners who do not clean up after them.

OK referendum

GAGES LAKE —Woodland Dist. 50 voters will be asked to increase their taxes by 58 cents per $100 of assessed valuation in November. The Woodland Dist. 50 Board of Education, following the recommendation of the citizens' advisory council, approved seeking the rate hike at a Monday meeting. The increase would be solely for the educational fund.

Tax rate may go down

MUNDELEIN—The tax levy rate for the Village of Mundelein may be "a trifle less" than last year, or possibly go up slightly, depending on what the exact figure is for 1988 assessed valuation. This figure will not be known until about February of 1989.

Committee hears plea

NORTH CHICAGO —The North Chicago City Council's finance committee heard a request from U.S. Cable to renegotiate a lease with the city at its Monday night meeting. The cable company says the present lease regarding what will happen to the tower once the lease expires is vague. The firm offered $50,000 to renegotiate the lease presently or $150,000 to buy the land.

Charges still on

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Sexual harassment charges against Round Lake Beach Mayor Carl Schrimpf have been dropped, the mayor announced at a press conference Tuesday afternoon after his receipt of the order of dismissal from the Dept. of Human Rights. However, Jerelynn A. Bertocini who filed the charges and withdrew them, said she is taking the charges through the court system instead.

Task Force organizes

ROUND LAKE AREA—Concerned about their lake, area residents met with the Lakes Management Task Force in the park district's community center. They listened to task force members delineate the need for a study to be done on the lake's deterioration, as well as to plan ways of funding a $4,700 lake study. The study would be done by Lake County Health Dept. Aquatic Biologist Steven R. Moylan, who has performed similar studies in Lake County. Officials in attendance urging local support were Avon Twp. Supervisor Norman Geary, Park District Director Robert Rolek, Round Lake Beach Mayor Carl Schrimpf, and Round Lake Park Mayor George Scherer to name some.

Principal moves on

MUNDELEIN—Michael Polite, who had been principal at Washington and Mechanics Grove elementary schools for 14 years, has accepted the position of principal of Hauser Junior High School in Riverside. He expects that as far as parent involvement, the two jobs will be much alike.

No smoke detectors

RIVERWOODS—The village board failed to pass an ordinance which would have required smoke detectors, after in-depth discussion involving enforcement implications. Smoke detectors could have been required for those seeking building permits, or in all existing residences.

Fetes 75 years

ANTIOCH — The Antioch Fire Dept. will be celebrating 75 years of fire fighting in the Village and Township of Antioch and giving mutual aid to surrounding communities on Saturday, Aug. 13. The party will begin with a parade that will go down Rte. 83 from the high school to Williams Park starting at 1 p.m. There will be water fights with fire departments from surrounding departments competing. Refreshments, games and music will be available at Williams Park.

Storm causes fire

INGLESIDE—Monday night's ferocious storm resulted in a delayed fire that caused a total of $28,000 in damage to an Ingleside home Tuesday morning. Fire Chief Stu Hoehne said the storm caused a large tree limb to break off and knock down power lines at a home site in Ingleside. The power wires then touched the aluminum siding of a house, sending power into a kitchen electrical outlet, where it grounded and began a fire. Damage to the structure on Stanton Point Rd. was estimated at $20,000. Smoke damage to contents was estimated at $8,000.

In other matters, the board accepted the resignation of junior high physical education teacher Judy Teubner, who is moving to Germany with her husband; passed a prevailing wage resolution; designated the State Bank of Antioch as the school depositor and accepted furniture bids for the new addition.

Chairladies Irene Terese and Del Scarpelli provided plenty of "Fun". Driving with a pillowcase over the head and playing an entire hole with an iron, putting with a ping pong ball contributed to the laughs, just to mention a few of the unusual occurrences for that day. The turnout was great and enthusiasm high.

The State Bank contributed toward the prizes which were awarded after lunch held in the dining room of Antioch Golf Club.

Some of the awards were: low net; Caroline Costoff, Kay Costoff, June Hols, Doris Mittleheuser and Dolores Abderholden.

Monies realized from the Thrift Shop at 921 Main St. and the yearly Cotillion are used to make these donations.

Discount advance tickets are on sale and may be obtained from members of the Antioch Jaycees, who are the local sponsors.

Audiences will see a virtual United Nations of performers and all the glittering spectacle of Kelly-Miller Bros. Three-ring Circus grand entry, plus aerial acts without equal, performing elephants, jungle bred wild animals, clowns and more! It's the kind of show that stirs the memory and heart of every grandparent or parent. They will remember it as America's Finest Circus which was founded in 1938 by Ober, Kelly, and Doris Miller.

It was 17 years after the signing of the Declaration of Independence that Bill Ricketts founded America's first circus in Philadelphia. The first performance was attended by George Washington, then President of the United States. A fine horseman himself, Washington was amazed at the feats Ricketts performed on his horse, Cornplanter.

The two men became good friends and struck a bargain for the Circus to display as an added feature Washington's famous 28 year old horse named 'Black Jack'. Thus the Father of our Country and the Father of the American Circus joined hands in bringing the country family, entertainment that has never had a censor.

Weather cooperates with Lions Club Barbeque

The rain held off for 24 hours, the wind blew in the right direction, and the men of the Antioch Lions Club barbequed chicken like there was no tomorrow at their annual Farmers' Picnic held last Sunday, Aug. 7.

"The day was fantastic! We had excellent attendance and strong and softball in Antioch.

Speaking of sports, did you notice all those youngsters up at the high school practicing for the coming season? It reminds us that fall is approaching rapidly and maybe our beat wave will end.

The Viking Youth Football organization has

Jones, Ron Casey as Rev. Twackum, Frank Torrez as Squire, Vaughn Filwett as Mr. Western, Cassandra Teschner as Sophia Western, Delores Finley as Miss Western, Debbie Beno as Honour, Sander Sundberg as Justice Dowling, Henry Axel Apostol II as Doctor, Sam Barnes as sales," reported Don Skimore, co-chairman of the event. "Even the weather cooperated better than we anticipated," he said. "We thank the town for supporting us."

Thank goodness for the wind, however; a peek at a thermometer in the shade at Williams Park that day showed it registering 100 degrees. There were also great bargains to be had at the Antioch Rescue Squad Auction and Junior Woman's Club Treasure Booth.

The auction saw some very interesting items from whole lambs to cars. It was a great show made all the more pleasurable by the cooling shade of the Lions' Pavillion.

In other action at the auction, the Antioch Youth Baseball organization awarded a hind-quarter of beef to Antioch resident G. Collins and a fore-quarter to Eileen Manis, also of Antioch. Congratulations to you, and thank you to all who helped support baseball already registered over 150 boys, 55 girls, and 40 coaches for its fall program. But "keep them coming," says league president, Nick Pappadakis.

"If you feel you missed the sign-ups, we will be accepting late registrations. Just come up to the Antioch High School east parking lot before 6 p.m., Monday through Friday of this week or Monday through Thursday next week." The first games will be played after Labor Day. For more information call: (312) 395-5770.

Heard tell that PM's "Tom Jones" is a bawdy romp, so you won't want to miss one of the last two performances at 8 p.m., Friday, Aug. 12 or Saturday, Aug. 13. Come out and see your favorite performers:

Larry Bullman as Partridge, Janet Reynolds as Bridget Allworthy, Gerry Mandel as Squire Allworthy, Shirley Jensen as Deborah, Connie Sturm as Jenny Jones, Dick Dyer as Captain Blifil, Kenelm Scheske as Blifil, Keith Golwitzer as Tom Highwayman, Connie Sturm as Mrs. Waters, Regina Reynolds as Harriet Fitzpatrick, Phread Kosmach as Fitzpatrick, Tracy Kiederlen as Mrs. Whitefield, Gerry DesBiens as Susan, Yvonne Dyer as Lady Bellaston, Mary Jane McConnell as Nancy, Alex Apostol as Constable.

Remember reservations are necessary; call the ticket line at (312) 395-3055.

Probably the most significant happening in Antioch this week is the 75th anniversary of the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept. on Saturday, Aug. 13. The Diamond anniversary celebration will begin festivities with a 10:30 a.m. parade to be followed at 1 p.m. with a program of recognition at Williams Park, 741 Main St., Antioch.

Come out and join the celebration of some of Antioch's most dedicated citizens.

School registrations for Dist. 34 come next week. Do you believe that? Keep cool; this will pass!

Aqua Center offers swimming

The Antioch Aqua Center will be offering adult lap swimming beginning Aug. 1 to Sept. 1. Anyone 18 years and older who would like to swim laps may do so this August.

problems in Antioch, specifically along Rt 83, during summer months.

Suggestions were made to help educate the public that when a citizen is standing in a crosswalk CARS MUST STOP to allow that pedestrian to cross. IT IS THE LAW! Likewise, it is against the law for pedestrians to cross where it is not designated a crosswalk. As is typical with the current village administration, nothing gets done until there is sufficient public pressure to make change.

The suggestions were to place articles in the paper reminding the public about crosswalk law, place signs at the busiest of crosswalks stating the law, and utilizing village summer employees as crosswalking guards during peak shopping hours. Other than periodic warnings to violators by police, there have been attempts to correct this long standing problem in Antioch.

How many times have we stood at the crosswalks in Antioch, children in hand, hoping someone would be kind enough to allow us to cross? I have had cars race to scare us into crossing when we're halfway across, two of my children were almost hit by cars this summer, and I've been sworn at by irate motorists.

All because I was trying to obey the law. On the other side, as a motorist I have had people walk out in front of my car, too lazy to go to a crosswalk. (Or maybe they know it doesn't do any good to go to a crosswalk in Antioch.)

It is my hope that upon reading this letter residents and tourists alike will be just a little more courteous regarding the crosswalk law when traveling through Antioch.

LEGAL PUBLIC NOTIFICATION LEAD CONTAMINATION IN DRINKING WATER FOR THE VILLAGE OF ANTIOCH

Congress legislated a ban on use of all lead solder and pipe as a part of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986. The language in those amendments requires that all public water supplies notify their water consumers of the potential dangers of lead in drinking water, and provide information regarding steps consumers can take to prevent ingesting water containing high lead levels.

Lead has been used in piping, solder, flux and plumbing appurtenances such as faucets for many years. Solder and flux used to join copper pipe contains lead. It is likely that some portion of your home or business plumbing system contains lead, if the system was constructed prior to the implementation of the lead ban in 1986.

Routine chemical sampling in Illinois has not confirmed lead above the national standard in the drinking water which leaves your local water treatment plant and enters the public water supply distribution system. Contamination occurs within the private plumbing systems attached to the public water supply distribution system. Plumbing fixtures, solder containing lead and, in some cases, lead pipe, can permit lead to leach into the drinking water if water is left standing in the pipes for several hours, or if the water itself is somewhat corrosive. To prevent lead contamination, remember:

Use only cold water for drinking, cooking and preparing baby formula.

If water has not been run in your home, school or business for several hours, (overnight, on weekends, during vacation periods), turn on the tap and allow the water to run until you feel a temperature change. This will remove or flush the water which has been standing in the pipes and supply water directly from the public water supply distribution system piping. It is very important that school custodians flush the drinking fountains each morning before children arrive.

Home softeners should not be plumbed to the cold water which is used for drinking and cooking. A separate pipe can be installed for cooking and drinking, or the softener can be installed to include only hot water processing.

Place a glass or pitcher of water in the bedroom or bathroom for small children or members of the family who get up in the night for a drink of water. Store some drinking water in a glass jug in the refrigerator for drinking.

Be sure small children understand the importance of allowing the water to run until the temperature changes before drinking.

The average lead content in the water delivered to your home is less than 5 parts per billion. This concentration is within the limit of 50 parts per billion allowed by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The pH and hardness of the water are such that a thin layer of calcium carbonate is deposited on the insides of the distribution lines and plumbing to prevent corrosion of piping.

If you think lead has been used in your home plumbing system, conduct this easy test of pipes or solder. A key or screwdriver can be used to scratch the surface of any dull grey pipe or soldered joint. If the metal scratches easily and appears bright silver, the pipe or solder is most likely lead. Consult with a licensed plumber to discuss whether or not lead is present in your plumbing system, and which methods you can use to remove the lead from your home or business.

Questions concerning lead in drinking water should be directed to:

Questions regarding Water Treatment and Distribution: Timothy Wells, Public Works Administrator, 395-1000.

Questions regarding plumbing regulations should be directed to: Mike Ruxton, Plumbing Inspector, 395-1881.

Questions regarding actual health effects information or physical screening should be directed to: your personal physician, pediatrician or obstetrician; or The Lake County Health Department, 360-6747.

Questions regarding sampling and analysis of your home or business water should be directed to a laboratory certified by the IEPA to perform analysis for lead. A list of laboratories certified to perform lead analysis is available from: Timothy Wells, Public Works Administrator, 395-1000.

USEPA has a toll-free Safe Drinking Water Act hotline. Questions regarding federal regulations should be referred to this number, 1-800-426-4791.

The following information is required by USEPA to be included in all public notification issued:

"The United States Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm) (this is equivalent to 50 parts per billion). Based on new health information, USEPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse health effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

USEPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:

--if your home or water system has lead pipes, or

--if your home has copper pipes with lead solder, and --if the home is less than five years old, or

--if you have soft or acidic water, or

--if water sits in the pipes for several hours."

When using water which has been standing in your system for several hours or longer, be sure to flush the system as recommended above.

Auto refuse pick-up earning good marks

Lakeland's first automated refuse-collection system has the enthusiastic support of both Grayslake officials and householders.

The innovative system is part of the village's new contract with HOD Inc., Antioch, a division of Waste Management Corp., which has been serving Grayslake a number of years.

Grayslake residents have been furnished with a special 100-gallon plastic container designed for automated curbside pick-up. The container was provided at no charge.

HOD is operating pick-up with one driver. Mayor Edwin Schroeder said the company is disposing of old cans free of charge.

Schroeder stressed that residents should still use the village's innovative recycling center to dispose of newspaper, washed glass and aluminum. The center operates only two hours per week, from 10 a.m. to noon on Saturdays.

Fox Lake officials have indicated they will study the Grayslake system as part of implementing a new contract by September. Mayor William Dam is supporting solid waste sorting, either curbside or at a recycling center like Grayslake or Woodstock.

Meanwhile the Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency (SWPA), with representation from a number of municipalities, is continuing to study alternatives to landfilling.

Lake sampling being charted

The Lakes Management Unit of the Lake County Health Dept. Environmental Health Division has added a Toxics Sediment Assessment program to the services provided in Lake County. The program will continue over several years. Health Dept. staff will collect sediment samples from 171 lakes in the county; those at least six acres in size. The sediment will be analyzed for heavy metals, such as lead and mercury, and for organics, such as pesticides.

These substances are of concern to the public's health because they may be taken in by fish that are subsequently consumed. During the study, fish from certain lakes will be analyzed to determine the extent of any toxicity in their flesh. The sampling schedule for this year may be obtained by calling Mary Rodell, Water Quality Specialist, at 360-6747.

Safety sting on aquatic Dan Ryan nets 34 violators

by PAUL SMITH

Authorities may call the Fox River where it passes under Rte. 12 in northern Village of Fox Lake the Dan Ryan Expressway of recreational boating, but there is at least one major difference.

Policers of pavement must have "probable cause" to stop and check travelers. Waterway watchers do not.

And so, the Lake County Sheriff's Department and the Illinois Department of Conservation set up a "boat blockade" at that busy passageway Saturday, and stopped upwards of 650 boats in the guise of a safety check.

It was the first time any such operation has taken place in the state.

"We're concerned with boating safety in the Chain (of Lakes)," Sheriff

Clinton Grinnell said as the operation began about 3 p.m.

"This is traditionally known as one of the most heavily used waterways in the nation," said Department of Conservation Cptn. Jim Getz, "and certainly the most heavily used in the state."

Sgt. George Rose piloted one of the nine boats used in the "safety" operation.

"Basically, it's safety," the sergeant said while directing boaters to one of the law enforcement boats doing the inspecting. "We're trying to make the Chain safe for everybody."

Though all those stopped Saturday may not agree, the effort may be necessary. From May 14 through last Friday, 31 accidents had been reported on the chain, eight of which involved injuries.

Doris Bock of Grayslake said "It's a nuisance right now. We were out enjoying ourselves."

Despite the inconvenience of the check, which took only minutes unless you happened by at a particularly busy time or where detained for violations, Bock saw the potential for enhanced safety.

"I hope it helps," she said. "There's been too many people I know killed out here."

McHenry's Martin Justen wasn't as gracious.

"It's ridiculous," he said of the operation. "This is just another way to make money. If we were doing something wrong, driving recklessly, I could see them pulling us over..."

But boaters, unlike motorists, don't have to be doing anything wrong to be pulled over.

"We can stop them for equipment checks," Sgt. Rose said. "We don't need as much probable cause."

Cptn. Getz, asked about the potential that some of the high-powered boats attempting end-runs around the blockade, tapped his walkie-talkie and said "You can outrun the boat, but you can't outrun the Motorola."

If people weren't doing end runs, however, they did seem to be aware of, and avoiding, the blockade.

"There's not nearly as many (boats) coming under the bridge as normal," said Sheriff's Deputy Gordon Ramig. "I'm sure the one's coming through are convinced they're legal."

Thirty-four were wrong, and were issued citations, chiefly for safety violations such as not having enough, or improper, personal flotation devices aboard.

Directing traffic

Sheriff's Deputy Gordon Romig helped direct boat traffic during Saturday's "boat blockade" by the Lake County Sheriff's Department and the Illinois Department of Conservation on the Chain O' Lakes where it passes under Rte. 12 on the north side of the Village of Fox Lake.

Cruising with the kids

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

As anyone from a large family knows, vacations with the kids can be a trying experience. As one of five children, I can remember some major arguments when it came time to agree on the day's activities. So how about a vacation where everyone can do his own thing?

A family cruise may be just the answer! Cruise ships, once strictly adult territory, now offer programs for the kids so comprehensive they could be called floating camps. Most cruise lines employ trained youth counselors, many of whom are on leave from jobs as teachers, to plan activities just for the kids. Programs are offered for all age groups from pre-school to teens.

Counselors initially meet with families and explain the facilities and activities for the kids. Then, each day a program is slipped under the cabin door outlining the events of the day especially for children. The youngest are kept busy with pool parties, scavenger hunts, special entertainment. Teens, who tend to shun structured activities, are offered get-acquainted parties, and then may prefer to do their own thing with new-found friends.

Children are fascinated by tours of the bridge and a chance to meet the captain. (I must say, though, that was one of my biggest thrills, too.) They will see radar, navigational charts, and quite often learn more about the ship than most experienced adult cruisers.

When the ship docks at the first port, the family can either take a shore excursion together, or the kids can go on one especially designed for them. If that teenager doesn't want to go anywhere, there's no need for a family crisis. The ship's in full operation even in port.

O.K., so how much is all this going to cost? You will be pleasantly surprised at the family plans offered by most cruise lines. For less than a couple of hundred dollars more than the airfare alone, the kids and the adults can have a vacation together. But still have it "their way".

Homebuilder indicted for forgery, deceptive practices

A Lake County homebuilder was indicted and is sought after for nine counts of forgery and two counts of deceptive practices.

Henry Osburn, 37, of Racine County, Wis., is alleged to have taken close to $400,000 from about 25 homes in Lake County, which had liens filed against them by the bilked subcontractors.

Assistant State's Attorney Joe Collina said Osburn would not deliver the checks as instructed to the subcontractors after the closings of the houses. He is also said to be charged with forging the names of the subcontractors and cashing the checks.

The homes were built in North Prairie Estates in Winthrop Harbor; Sestohas Subdivision near the 2700 block of Clearview Avenue, Waukegan; Waldenstrom's West in Grayslake; Crestwood Estates, 2400 Alpine Court, Lake Villa; and individual homes built in Gurnee.

Hotel arsonist arrested

Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell announced the arrest of Zion resident Keith Williams, 19, on charges of aggravated arson for setting fire to the Illinois Beach State Park Resort Hotel on Aug. 2.

Williams, a disgruntled former maintenance employee of the hotel, was taken into custody by Sheriff's office investigators John Krempotic and Rodney Brown on Aug. 4. After being advised of his rights (under the Miranda Rule), Williams admitted setting fire to the linen storage room of the hotel, Grinnell said.

Democrats open new headquarters

Grand opening festivities for the new headquarters of Democratic candidates running in the November election has been announced by Betty-Ann Moore, Lake County Democratic chairman.

The opening will take place on Wednesday, Aug. 17, from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the headquarters location, 908 Washington St. in Waukegan.

Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend the event and meet with the many democratic county and legislative candidates who will be on hand.

For further information, please call (312)816-8303.

Williams is presently being held in the Lake County Jail on a $25,000 bond. Teamwork and cooperation are key words in law enforcement. The arrest of Williams was the culmination of this cooperative spirit between the Bonnie Brook Fire Dept., state fire marshal's office and Lake County Sheriff's investigators, Grinnell said.

McHenry man, 58, charged

Lake County Sheriff Clinton O. Grinnell announced that a McHenry resident, John J. McGowen, 58, was indicted Aug. 3 by the Lake County Grand Jury on 12 counts of theft for perpetrating a scheme against eleven potential victims in Lake County and absconding with $7,100.

The scam revolved around a newspaper ad to build sun decks. McGowen would go to the victims' homes, sign a contract and take the deposit money and never return to perform the work contracted for, Grinnell said.

"To our knowledge, no decks have been built, nor have any deposit funds been returned to the victims," Grinnell stated.

The Sheriff's Special Investigative Unit Office, charged McGowen with six counts of theft and six counts of theft by deception.

Records indicate McGowen has an extensive record of this type of behavior in Illinois and Michigan.

Business, not book, smarts spell success

by RANDI OSTRO

Some people may consider her a miracle worker.

But it's all in a day's work for Tracy Nehlson, owner of "The New You." It is behind the doors of Antioch's equivalent of Lourdes, France, that her exercise machines, hair-styling salon, manicurist, tanning beds, and apparel rental can transform even the most desperate creature into a smashing socialite in just a few hours.

"Someone can come in here looking like a dog off a boat, and we can wash 'em, clean 'em up, and send 'em back out looking presentable," Nehlson promises.

It's a concept that Nehlson has toyed with for quite some time. "In order to make it in the beauty business, you need to be diversified. We offer more than one service in a single location, so it's convenient for people to get everything done in one spot.

"It's about time people in Antioch got credit for their taste. The people here aren't hillbillies," Nehlson protests. "Antioch is ready for something upscale."

"The New You" has been open barely six weeks, and the concept is taking off, according to Nehlson, who understands the importance of pampering her clients.

That's the secret, she says. Her services attract both young and old, male and female.

"Even people who work at health clubs are coming here to use our tanning beds because we offer a more complete service."

Image shaper

Tracy Nehlson, owner of "The New You," in Antioch, expanded her image-shaping business to include dress rental because she "got sick of" people borrowing, and sometimes ruining, her own clothes. Now she has a selection to fit all sizes.

But she insists that diversity is also key, which is why she plans to purchase advanced hair-styling equipment, expand her services to include image consulting, the works.

Nehlson has no qualms about her latest endeavor succeeding. "I have opened several businesses, and all of them are still in operation," says the former car-rental owner, aircraft repair proprietor, and cleaning service starter.

But Nehlson admits that her encounters working at the U.S. Post Office got her where she is today. Sort of.

Telemarketers ring, registers sing

by RANDI OSTRO

Opportunities don't come knocking at your door anymore. Nowadays, they ring your phone.

Businesses are learning that telemarketing is no longer the forte of hucksters. It is a sales technique now used by the most sophisticated firms, and they are grappling to beef up their forces.

From the tried-and-true means of selling that infamous aluminum siding has developed what Lakeland Newspapers Classified Advertising Manager Gordon LaCombe calls "an effective, more civilized field that benefits both businesses and customers."

Telemarketers can obviously approach more potential customers than an in-store or door-to-door salesman. So much so that some businesses depend solely on it.

"Almost every company in Lake County is using telemarketers for one purpose or another," said Bonny Koffler of Kelly Services. "It's a booming field that demands a lot of people."

Koffler says, however, that frequent rejection causes a high turn-over rate.

Successful telemarketers, though, are able to overcome potential rejection and turn that encounter into a sale.

It may not be as tough as it seems.

"The success rate is high," said LaCombe. "We can reach a lot of people through telephone solicitation, including other businesses, which lessens the pressure of home-solicitation."

According to Jim Haas, guidance counselor at the College of Lake County, the only course related to this growing field is "Business and Professional Speaking."

But that doesn't mean that the field of telemarketing is limited to only those with college training.

"Most of our customers provide training, which can vary depending on their needs," Koffler said. "It's the training and attitude when they first start out that will contribute to their success."

At Sears, Roebuck and Co., direct marketing takes the place of telephone solicitors.

Sears spokesperson Guy Eberhart said, "We call customers when they express an interest in one of our services as more of a follow-up than a solicitation." Rather, Sears staffs phone persons at its 1-800 numbers to answer customer questions and take catalog orders.

According to LaCombe, the growing need for telemarketers has left him short-handed.

"We have enough work for about five or six telemarketers, each working between 18-20 hours a week," he said.

Randi Harris, who worked as a telemarketer for several months, said "Most of the people are really nice on the phone. In fact, very few ever were rude to me. I guess the secret is being cheerful, assertive, and understanding when you call people."

(For more information about telemarketing opportunities, call Gordon LaCombe at (312)223-8161.)

June retail sales increase statewide

Illinois retail sales jumped 8.29 percent in June over the same month a year ago, showing a marked increase over the last two months.

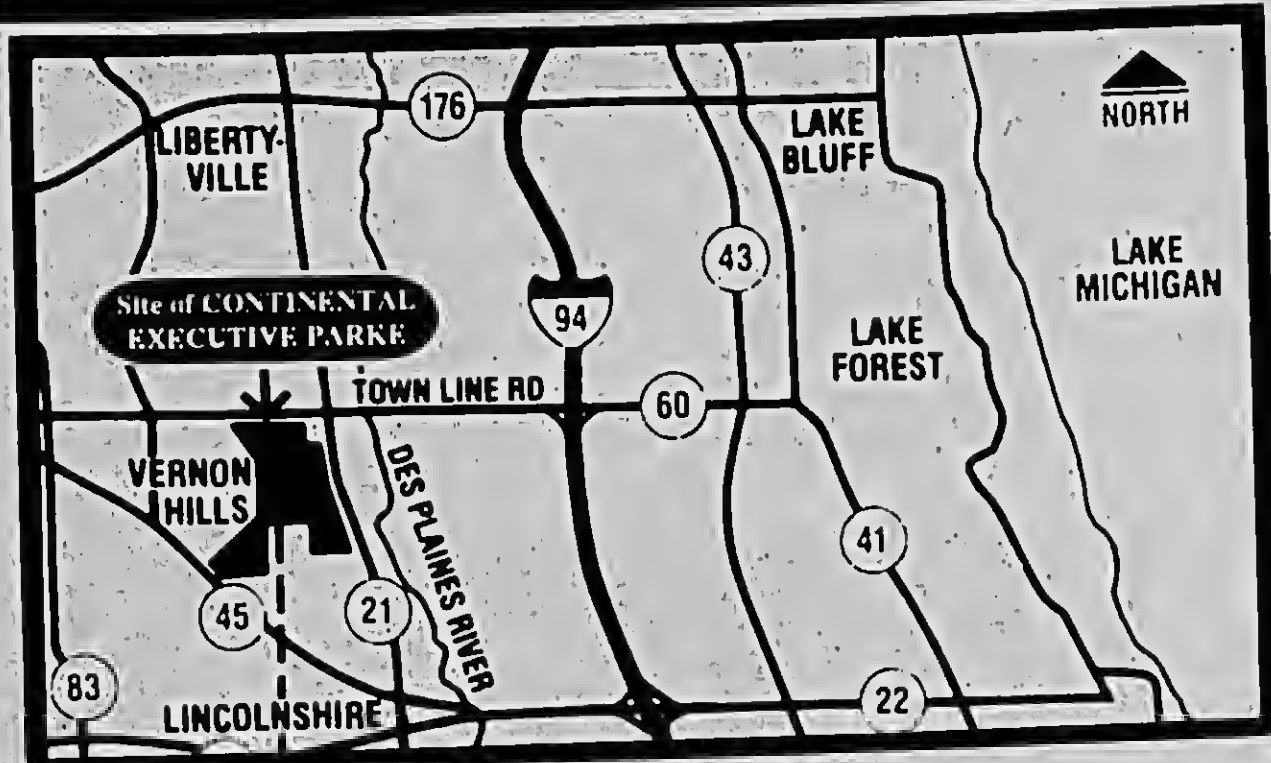

All three geographic regions reported gains in June. Northern Illinois reported the highest gain of 9.63 percent, followed by increases in Central/Southern Illinois of 8.52 percent in Metropolitan Chicago of 8.08 percent.

David F. Vite, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Assn., announced the June results of the IRMA/Touche Ross Retail Sales Comparison Report. The 59 firms surveyed, represented by 287 stores statewide, have totaled over $9 million Illinois sales volume for the retailing fiscal year beginning

February 1, 1988.

Shoe, Variety, and other stores fared the best in June, reporting an overall increase of 14.48 percent, with Northern Illinois up 17.39 percent, Central/Southern Illinois up 16.07 percent, and Metropolitan Chicago increasing 10.57 percent.

Site of new development

Largest business park in Lake County is planned on far the former Continental Grain Co. experimental farm near Rtes. 60 and 21 in Vernon Hills. Planned is a 515-acre mixed-use park with office, light industrial and office space. An 84-acre development of upscale single-family homes will also be constructed as part of the project.

Dallas developer plans ritzy, mixed-use project

A 602-acre parcel in Vernon Hills has been purchased by a major Dallas-based developer, Prestiss Properties, as the site for a mixed-use project expected to be the largest in suburban Lake County and among the largest in all of Chicagoland.

The announcement was made by Lawrence Krueger, vice president and regional manager for Prestiss Properties Ltd., Inc., which purchased the tract, located south of Rte. 60 (Town Line Rd.) and west of Rte. 21 (Milwaukee Ave.), from Continental Grain Corp. The property was the site of Continental Grain's experimental farm, which is being relocated to the Janesville, Wis., area.

Prestiss' plans for the property include construction of a 515-acre business park with five-million square feet of retail space. One- to 150-acre sites are available for light distribution/warehouse build-to-suits.

Concurrent with the business park development, Prestiss plans to sell 84 acres to Rolling Meadows developer Kimball Hill, Inc., to be used as the site for upscale single-family housing.

Phase I of the business park, scheduled for completion in 1989, will involve 230 fully landscaped acres, including a 112-acre business park, 66 acres of retail/mixed commercial/office space, and a 16-acre golf learning center. Initial infrastructure improvements to the property will total about $18 million. Of this, landscaping costs for the entire project are estimated at $3 million, according to Krueger.

The Vernon Hills project, to be called Continental Executive Parke, marks Prestiss Properties' first full-scale development in the Chicago area.

Known for upscale, high-quality projects with special environmental features, Prestiss Properties' plans for Continental Executive Parke include eight miles of landscaped jogging trails and connecting bridges to adjacent Deerpath Park; a highly manicured, professional golf learning center; a full-serviced hotel and a variety of theme restaurants and a day care center.

Gurnee welcomes park tenants

Some 15 years in the making, Gurnee's newest business park officially began with ribbon-cutting ceremonies at Domino Amjet, a laser printing firm.

In addition, developers of the 270-acre business park unveiled plans for a 170,000 square foot master planned Grand Tri-State Corporate Centre complete with an office-service campus in the spacious and highly landscaped environment of the midwest's newest and largest business park development.

"It is a grand thing to be here and be a leading part of this development," Rod Johnson, president of Domino Amjet, said.

Developer Rosenquist said there has been interest expressed in seven of the parcels.

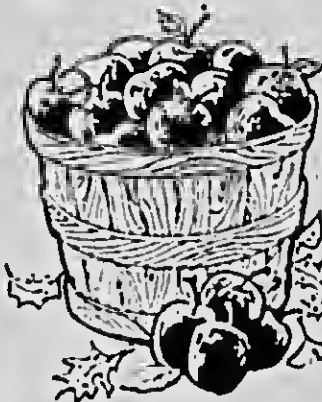

It has been estimated that 10,000 new jobs will be added to the Lake County economy, Halstrom said.

"We have all the components to bring Illinois back," U.S. Rep. Phil Crane said.

Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton spoke of the I-94 interchange of opportunity represented by Gurnee Mills.

Beauty business

"Working for the post office was the hemorrhoid of my life...People told me that working for the post office wasn't glamorous enough for me, and when they rejected my idea to put sequins on the uniforms, I decided they were right.

"Finally, after gluing my hand to the back of a Spiegel catalog, I decided that one week was enough. Just then, a former client offered to sell me some tanning beds I originally sold her when I was in that business, and I decided to open up the tanning spa."

But that wasn't enough. Within a few months, she decided to expand into several full-scale beauty services under one roof. She wanted "each service (to be) individual and complete," so she and her husband set about designing and remodeling the building on Rte. 173 just east of Rte. 83.

"My husband and I both worked 24 hours a day at regular jobs, and we built this place in our 'spare time.' I would come sit on the floor and just visualize the layout, right down to the color scheme."

Her husband Tom and friends set about making the fantasy a reality. "Luckily, Tom has the ability to build what my imagination allows me to do," she says as her arm, draped in puckered silk, motions toward two inviting gray sofas, a dress rack stuffed with satins and chiffons in colors galore, and flowers blossoming behind a sparkling-jewelry display case.

Nehlsion is one of three daughters of a now-retired Master Chief of the Navy. She was born in Linton, Ind., but traveled quite a bit while in school. She graduated from Antioch High School in 1972.

"Teachers used to say if I'd just apply myself I'd be so smart. I already know I'm smart. You don't need book smarts to be successful."

Gurnee's McCoy cited for sales level

Michael D. McCoy, Gurnee agent, was cited during the 108th Annual Meeting of Agents of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co., Milwaukee, for sales during the year ended May 31.

He is associated with Northwestern's David R. O'Brien district agency, Gurnee, of the Robert P. Medow general agency, Schaumburg.

McCoy achieved membership in the Diamond Class for selling more than $7 million in insurance.

Baxter retirees' alumni club a forum to renew friendships

by RANDI OSTRO

Is there life after Baxter? Members of Baxter Alumni, an organization of Baxter International retirees, certainly think so.

In fact, approximately 145 retirees of Baxter and American Hospital unite at monthly meetings held in various locations. Their next meeting, August 17, will be at Chevy Chase Country Club and will feature a senior citizens group called the Checkerboard Squares.

Organization president Marylin Hamilton began planning the Baxter International Alumni Association two years ago, and the first meeting was held last year. Since then, of the 600 mailings to retirees, about 145 have paid the $10 membership dues and participate in the monthly meetings and annual events.

"We would like to eventually form chapters," said Hamilton. Currently the group draws members primarily from northern Illinois, southern Wisconsin, and western Indiana. "But first, we have to be on more sure ground ourselves before we can advise other chapters." So far, Baxter alumni from Arizona and Florida have inquired about starting a local chapter.

In addition to social purposes, the meetings often bring lecturers to speak on topics such as health clubs, temporary services, and retirement benefits. The meetings are held usually at restaurants in Wheeling, but one meeting took members on a tram tour of the Botanical Gardens.

"We would like to plan a theater party or a lake cruise," said Hamilton. "Mainly we want to make the opportunity to be together and renew old friendships and form new ones."

Do they anticipate a scholarship fund? "Maybe, but right now we're too young of a group for starting a scholarship fund," said Hamilton.

Hamilton and Haley brainstormed on starting a club for retirees of Baxter and American Hospital back in 1985. They formed the club for employees of Baxter International and recently merged American Hospital who are at least 55 years old and vested in the company's pension fund.

There Are Two Great Seasons To Buy A Heat Pump.

Summer. And winter. Both are perfect seasons to invest in a heat pump. Because a heat pump is the most energy-efficient heating and cooling system available.

During the summer cooling season, it works exactly like a central air conditioner. The only difference is that a heat pump is probably more efficient than your old unit. Because older air conditioners tend to use more electricity. And cost more to run.

In the winter heating season, it's just the opposite. A heat pump works with your furnace to heat your home, by bringing in the sun's heat from the outside air. Heat most people don't even know exists.

So a heat pump can actually generate three times as much heat as the energy it uses.

And by combining it with a furnace, you've created the most energy-efficient heating system available. Bar none.

An air conditioner that heats. Or a heater that cools. Either way you look at it, a heat pump is a smart way to keep your home comfortable, all year long.

And that's something that never goes out of season.

Stop tree slayers

If there is a movement afoot to protect trees, we're all for it and we applaud efforts to bring about enactment of ordinances guaranteeing preservation of natural resources.

The mindless destruction of a stand of century-old hardwood trees in the Wauconda area by developers Berger-Holtgren has incensed citizens, as well it should, and prompted a demand on the part of local and county officials to prevent such an occurrence ever happening again.

The wanton tree destruction in Wauconda was mindful of the tree ravaging in Lake Forest several years ago by television's Mr. T that attracted national attention. Mr. T's savage destruction brought about adoption of a tree code in the City of Lake Forest that is considered a model. Officials in Fox Lake and Grayslake are considering "Lake Forest tree ordinances." That's good. We hope other villages follow suit.

It's ironic that 10 years ago business groups went to great lengths, and considerable cost, Antioch and Grayslake come quickly to mind, to plant trees in the downtown business district to beautify commercial areas, yet some so-called builders find it necessary to go on a chainsaw binge to provide space for another house or a factory building. The Corporate Woods project in Vernon Twp. has achieved national acclaim for tree preservation in connection with a commercial development. That's smart thinking in the business sector.

Trees are priceless and need to be protected. In case you're wondering about the value of a mature hardwood, ask someone who has just built a new home in one of those projects where the top soil was peeled off and all visible signs of life erased. They know.

New building era?

Due to a combination of circumstances, big developers are regarding land in Lake County suitable for development an increasingly scarce commodity.

That might come as a surprise to open space advocates who have adopted a fortress mentality regarding the still open and rolling countryside surrounding this community. Developers, however, look for more than just bare ground. What arouses their passions for a "hot spot" just isn't available in the quantity that it once was.

What this adds up to is a lessening of the pressures leading to growth and development. It may be going a bit far to say that we've reached a breathing point, but hopefully the frantic, helter-skelter, out-of-control building pace is tapering off.

Price is one reason big developers either already or soon will be looking elsewhere for the precious commodity they so desperately need. Many parcels of vacant land around here are beyond the reach of even the deep pockets developers. One of the most desirable vacant commercial corners in Lake County, the corner of Rtes. 12 and 22 in Lake Zurich is available for in excess of $2 million. That's considered out of reach.

Another reason big developers are looking beyond Lake County is a strong anti-growth sentiment. County officials are on the warpath. Locally, open spaces as exhibited by a hard core in Grayslake have dug in and village officials have gotten the message. Potential development sites have diminished rapidly in the building boom of the past years as evidenced in Libertyville and Lake Zurich. Lake County's infra-structure is buckling under the growth pressures, particularly in the case of roads and elimination of both solid wastes and sewage. Big developers aren't going to "buy into" headaches that won't go away in a hurry. Another positive force for slowing growth and development is the demand on the part of taxpayers for payment of upfront school subsidies. Not the least of the growth inhibitors is the fact that residential building has reached a limit in upscale communities. Arlington Heights is a classic case of a community where the development sites have been exhausted.

Have we overlooked a few reasons? Perhaps. The point is that we are in a more comfortable position. We earnestly hope that an era is ahead where both officialdom and the public will be able to pick and choose desirable growth. No one likes to have anything crammed down their throat. We've had far too much of that in recent years.

Back to the future

More and more, the 1988 Presidential election campaign is looking like a replay of 1960. Now the Republicans are looking seriously at a New York Congressman to fill out the ticket. If Jack Kemp gets the nod, then all the pieces are in place for rerun of history.

The Dukakis-Bentson team is right out of the Kennedy-Johnson book. Northern Harvard-educated liberal-southern Senator. The Republicans are pretty far down the road toward the same script with a sitting vice president following an immensely popular GOP President. Shades of Ike and Nixon.

There are other similarities to the 1960 campaign that make a comparison eerie. As in nearly 30 years ago, our nation is at peace and there is general prosperity. As in 1960, there appears to be a restiveness in America. JFK's ringing admonition to "Get America going again" has the same banal tones as Dukakis' "We are the party of families" and makes about as much sense. JFK got the nation going, all right, right to a series of cock-eyed foreign encounters and a place called Vietnam. Are we to wonder whether Democratic restoration of family life will mean the total destruction of family values as we know them today? We shall see.

Viewpoint

Wimp or Simp choice looms for November

by BILL SCHROEDER

When President Reagan let slip the other day his concern for the health of Michael Dukakis, a whole new dimension opened up for the 1988 Presidential election campaign.

In case you missed it, Reagan was referring to a couple of rather severe bouts with depression experienced by the Democratic nominee. Dukakis didn't dodge the question about his health, telling the reporters he relies on the support of his family in times of stress and that he feels fine.

OK. That part of Dukakis' life is out in the open and it's out in the open early. Perhaps nothing will come of the question. Then again, the thought of a president being subject to periods of depression could develop into a campaign issue more than a lot of voters want to deal with.

If that's the case, will Campaign '88 turn into a choice of Wimp or a Simp? We can hear George Bush telling voters that he may be a wimp, but his opponent is a simp who buckles under stress. "I may be a wimp, but I'm a wimp who can hang in there," Bush might assert. That could be our choice in November.

LUNCH QUIZ—As might be expected, lunch with the President enjoyed by State Rep. Robert "Bob" Churchill has created quite a stir among his constituents. And Churchill is more than willing to talk about the event. Do you know what is the most frequently asked question of Churchill? It isn't what kind of person is Ronald Reagan or what matters of state were discussed. People want to know what President Reagan served his guests. That tells you a lot about Americans. For the record it was roast beef, sliced thin.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—Gloom is hanging over our household. Old age and blistering summer temperatures took a toll of our faithful, loveable German shepherd, Barin, who gave all 12 of her years to being the best pet any family could want. Good dogs always work their way into your heart, maybe bad dogs do, too. But she was an ideal pet, devoted, easy to manage and possessed of the most expressive eyes imaginable. Our family was blessed with a good dog. So long, old friend.

Letters To The Editor

Need positive approach

Editor:

I take exception to the article titled: "Lakes bad, getting worse by the year". Perhaps, if Joe Soulak does not know that Nippersink Lake is considered a part of the Chain O' Lakes, then perhaps some of his other comments might need re-evaluation. With the drought as severe as it is this year I doubt that a true comparison can be made as to the condition of the lakes, inland or Chain. I do know that the waterway commission is working hard to improve the Chain and educate the public so as to improve our natural resources. This article will do nothing to encourage the public in a joint effort to preserve and improve. We should all be concerned about water above and below ground, but I believe a more positive approach, rather than "getting worse by the year" would do a lot for our community, and shouldn't we work together as a community?

Editor:

The Lake Forest Friends Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends (Quakers) believes that we all have a responsibility to be stewards of the environment. This requires examination of the various methods available for the handling of environmental problems followed by the formulation and execution of an appropriate and coherent plan. At this time, the LCJASWPA is completing its work on the development of an integrated solid waste management plan for Lake County. They have devoted much time and thought to this. We feel that their plan needs to be examined before the siting of any new landfills in Lake County.

The residents of Lake County have a responsibility to take care of the waste that they generate. One aspect of this responsibility is to reduce the volume of waste placed in landfills through recycling and composting. The siting of a new landfill which is to handle 3,000 cubic yards of waste per day does not encourage immediate waste reduction and promotes a continuation of our current throw away habits. It also threatens the public health and safety of the residents of Lake County.

We encourage the Lake County Board to reject the request by Waste Management of Illinois, Inc. for permission to establish and operate a landfill at the northeast corner of Peterson Rd. and Illinois Rte. 83.

Opinions about rising cost of medical care

by LEOW. TANNENBAUM, M.D.

Preparation of these columns involves a great deal of reading about medical care. The sources are many, and include input from physicians and patients expressing various points of view. What they say is reinforced by newspaper articles, medical journals and financial columns. Here are some worthy of attention.

On January 6, one financial journal said surveys show hospital charges increasing far more quickly than the consumer price index. Using the last published data of hospital costs (1986), Tennessee-based Equicor-Equitable HCA Corp. surveyed almost 1,900 hospitals. Data indicated hospital care cost increases surpassed the rate of inflation by 10 to one.

Dozens of corporations that find the cost of medical care for employees, dependents and retirees too burdensome now turn to a new method: Case Management. This is a survey attempt by a consultant or group to assess needs. Efforts are made to

Guidelines for free milk

Students from low-income families can qualify for free or reduced-price meals and milk at the school they attend by filing the proper documentation. Forms for this purpose are available at each school. The program is for all students in kindergarten through high school.

Qualifying students are those from households where income is below established guidelines and households receiving food stamps or Aid to Families With Dependent Children. Additionally, foster children may be eligible for meal or milk benefits regardless of household income. If in doubt, check with the school the child attends

Income guidelines per household to qualify for free meals or milk are: one person, $7,501 annually or $145 per week; two persons, $10,049 per year or $194 per week; three persons, $12,597 per annum or $243 weekly; four persons, $15,145 and $292; five persons, $17,693 and $341; six persons, $20,241 and $390; seven persons, $22,789 and $439; and eight persons, $25,337 and $488.

Guidelines per household to qualify for reduced-price meals or milk are: one person, $10,675 per year or $206 per week; two persons, $14,301 annually or $276 weekly; three persons, $17,927 per annum or $345 weekly; four persons, $21,553 and $415; five persons, $25,179 and $485; six persons, $28,805 and $554; seven persons, $32,431 and $624; and eight persons, $36,057 and $694.

If a household is not eligible at the present time, but experiences a decrease in income, an increase in household size or a household member becomes unemployed, an application should be completed at that time.

Crane offers future talk

An insight into the future from a political point of view will be offered by Congressman Philip Crane (R-Arlington Heights) of the 12th Dist. on Thursday, Aug. 25. He will appear at the College of Lake County at 7:30 p.m. in Conference Room C003 in the lower level of Module C. The public is invited.

His appearance is sponsored by the Republican Assembly of Lake County. The program begins with a coffee social at 7 p.m. An open forum will be offered the last hour so those attending may ask questions.

Among questions Crane will answer are: Will Congress start doing the job it was intended to do? Will Oliver North receive a pardon from President Reagan? Will our right to keep and bear arms be further infringed? Will Illinois continue to lead the nation in AIDS deaths? Will our individual and religious freedoms be affected?

Crane is serving his 10th term in the United States House of Representatives. He is the fourth ranking Republican on the Ways and Means Committee with jurisdiction over energy, taxes, trade, Medicare, welfare reform and Social Security. The public is invited to attend.

Brother and sister make tough team

by CHRIS LAUBACH

Being a member of the Volo B's and A's Club seems to run in the Lungren family. Residents of Wauconda, Derek Lungren, 16, and his sister Sheri, 9, are both members of the 4-H club while his brother Dwane, 19, has reached the age limit and can no longer participate.

Dwane recently joined the Army, but during his five years in 4-H he won many awards for his showmanship. He was also treasurer for the club. Among his awards last year for showing (his cow and her calf) are First Place, First Place with Calf and First Place Dam and Daughter.

Derek and his sister were somewhat of a team this year. Sheri has only been in 4-H for one year at the fair, but Derek has had five years of experience. While he shows his cow and calf, his sister intends to do her best with her calf. Derek's calf, born in May, is the younger sister of Sheri's calf, born in February. The animals are leased through Golden Oaks Farm located in Wauconda.

Even though the animals are leased, Derek and Sheri are responsible for a lot of their care and upkeep. Grooming, halter breaking and training are only a few of the chores that must be done to prepare the animals for showing.

Judy Lungren, Derek, Sheri and Dwane's mother, said, "They spend quite a bit of their time taking care of their animals. Derek cleaned the calves, and bleached them white so that they were ready for the Lake County Fair."

Derek has won numerous awards for his showing ability. Recently, he attended the McHenry and Lake Counties Illinois Holstein Assn. show known as the Black and White Show.

There he won seven trophies including Junior Grand Champion Female, Reserved Senior Champion, Reserved Grand Champion (in the junior division), First Junior, First Seniors and several others.

When a cow and its trainer are judged the things that will ultimately decide who gets first are the cow and trainer's appearance, grooming and handling ability. The cow is also judged on how it stands, its utter and its cleanliness.

A cow continues to grow five to seven years after birth. Most can live as long as 13 to 15 years and weigh just about anything. Derek's cow weighs roughly 1,000 to 1,200 pounds. There is a cow at the Golden Oaks Farm that weighs one ton just before she calves.

Derek also does very well with his sketchings and drawings. Last year he won Reserved Grand Champion and again this year he won Reserved Grand Champion for his drawing of Koala Bear and her cub. At the Lake County Fair, Sheri entered the baking and cooking divisions.

As expected Derek and Sheri did very well in their Holstein showing. Derek took Superior Grand Champion, Best of Show, First in Showmanship, Cleanest Pen Award, Best Dairy Female in Barn and First in Dam and Daughter. Derek said, "She won first in every class she entered." Both Derek and Sheri won First in Produce of a Dam.

Both Derek and Sheri attend Wauconda School Dist. 118. What does the future hold for them? Judy Lungren said, "Derek wants to join the Marines after high school and Sheri, as of now, would probably like to be a singer."

Prized livestock

Derek Lungren and his sister Sheri show off his award winning cow and calf. Besides showing, Derek also sketches and draws and Sheri cooks and bakes. They are both members of the Volo B's and A's Club, the oldest 4-H club in Lake County.

CLC to auction packages

A "Joan Collins primp and pamper" package, a Chicago Bears football fan fantasy, a super children's birthday party and other "designer" packages will be on the auction block at the College of Lake County's dinner/auction scheduled for Saturday, Sept. 17.

"TAKE-OFF!" celebrates CLC's 20th anniversary and has been organized to raise funds for a new scholarship awards program that will provide tuition for 100 CLC students. The event includes a gourmet dinner and the excitement of both an oral and silent auction.

In addition to offering individual items for auction, CLC has combined some single donations into "designer" auction packages.

By successfully bidding on these designer packages, "TAKE-OFF!" guests can go home with their dream day, party, or vacation.

At "TAKE-OFF!" aspiring femmes fatales can buy a "Joan Collins primp and pamper" package that includes a manicure, pedicure, facial and hair style.

A cocktail dress that has been designed and tailored for the high bidder will be ready for a special evening out on the town. Then, looking and feeling her best, the owner of the Joan Collins package can invite her escort to join her for dinner at a first-class Chicago restaurant.

Sports fans will be bidding on the ultimate Chicago Bear football fan fantasy. This two-day package includes a round-trip ride on the team plane to Tampa, Fla. to enjoy a Bear-Buccaneer game. Accommodations at a fine hotel and meals are also included in this sport's fan fantasy package donated by Rockenbach Chevrolet of Grayslake.

CLC doesn't want the adults to have all the fun, so a children's birthday party has been packaged for the younger set. Since this is the 20th anniversary of CLC, the party has been designed for 20 children.

The party includes helium balloons, a clown, some McDonald's burgers and a birthday cake for 20 youngsters. To reward the surviving parents who have arranged the party, there is a rib dinner for two at Morgan's Bar & Grill in Libertyville.

This 20th anniversary dinner and auction will be held on the Grayslake campus in the physical education center.

Decorations based on a "TAKE-OFF!" theme will transform the facility into an elegant dining and auction facility. For more information on "TAKE-OFF!" call the college's public relations department at (312) 223-3622.

Program producing conservation-smart generation

by BILL RADKE

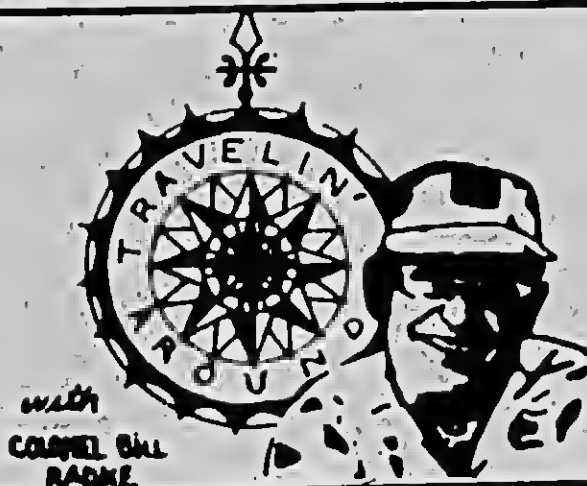

Kids for Conservation, a new and important organization, is sponsored by the Illinois Conservation Dept. for youth under 16. "Our goal is to raise the awareness level of Illinois' youth concerning fundamentals of conservation facts and theories," says Mark Frech, department director.

The organization launches at the Illinois State Fair in Springfield this week, with a Friday proclamation by Gov. James Thompson.

"As they learn, Kids for Conservation will produce a generation of conservation-educated residents interested in keeping, understanding and protecting our lands, wildlife and natural resources for all time," the governor said.

There is no membership fee. Applications are available from any conservation office. Members receive a quarterly magazine loaded with wildlife stories, puzzles, games and "how-to" articles. A during the past three years are particularly susceptible to thirst, and many are suffering more than we from the heat. A lot of wilting has appeared, and those trees require additional watering.

membership card, signed by both governor and director, will introduce planned events beginning this fall. Call the Chicago office, (312)917-2070, for details.

Young trees planted

Their roots are not yet capable of supporting their growth. Water them slowly for an hour, weekly, from a hose trickling at the base of the trunk. If they are gone and need removal, consider oak, beach, walnut, apple or evergreens as drought-resistant replacements.

Beating the heat has been a great concern during a summer that has already produced more 100-degree or over days than any on record. One way is spending time on the water—the bigger the surface the better.

Proof of this was our fishing experience on "The Fish Market", a charter boat captained by Calude Zoch, (414)682-5878, out of Manitowoc, Wisc.

Driving the 200 miles in mid-ninety-degree temperatures was comfortably offset by the wagon's air conditioner. But arrival at Manitowoc's Day's Inn reintroduced us to outside temperatures, somewhat tempered by nearby Lake Michigan.

"Wear warm clothing," the captain counseled. "It'll be cool tomorrow at 5:15 a.m." He was right, the extra sweater was welcome when we left port.

By 6 a.m., we were six miles out and the first of 13 slow troll lines went into the 130-foot water.

Five anglers, including an oriental couple, were aboard. She was a slight, 125-pounder, and at 6:30 a.m. boated the first of 12 salmonids that were on ice in our box when we pulled lines at 10:30 a.m. to keep an 11 a.m. port deadline.

We all caught fish. Our largest was a 10-pound lake trout. Ours was one of 25 boats in a competition where a 25.3-pound king salmon topped the day's catch.

During all the excitement, we hooked 15 fish and boated 12. We were cooled by the lake breeze, unless we ran with it. Thermometers climbed to 97 on land, but the lake was a built-in air conditioner.

By mixing freshly caught salmonids with charcoaled brats, beans, potato salad and beer, we had a mouth-watering Wisconsin shore lunch, plus a fine assortment of Lake Michigan's sport fish. Angling experience is not required; the captain is your teacher. Call Manitowoc's Lakeshore Development Bureau, 1-800-922-6278, for details.

Scouts urged to march

All girls entering kindergarten through 12th grade in Antioch, Emmons, Grass Lake and Millburn Schols this fall are encouraged to take part in the Firemen's Parade on Aug. 13. Meet at 10:30 a.m. in the high school parking lot and spend some time at the Girl Scout booths in Williams Park following the parade. One can register for the 1988-89 Scout year at the service unit's registration table in Williams Park.

Schedule riding competition

Richmond Round-Up Days to feature crafters

Invitations have gone out to 80 teams representing the United States, Canada, South and Central America, Mexico, Bermuda and St. Thomas. Approximately 125 competitors and mounts are expected. Each rider is between 16 and 21 years of age and will compete as a team member for his or her country or region.

All competition is governed by international rules like those applied in the Olympics, and every rider is hoping to gain experience in this competition to improve his or her chance to represent his or her country in future international competition.

Aug. 26-28—Mill Creek Horse Trials will be at Tempel Farms in Wadsworth.

One hundred twenty of the top horses in the midwest, plus top-flight competitors from the east, south and west will square off in dressage (the compulsory figures counterpart to figure skating), cross country endurance jumping, plus stadium jumping competition to be held at several levels, including training, preliminary and open intermediate (demands on horse and rider become more difficult at each level.)

Ticket prices are: Advance purchase, only $10 for five days covering both competitive weekends, $5 per day at the gate. Parking is free. Make plans to attend either Aug. 17-21, Aug. 26-28, or both. For more details, call (312) 244-7882 evenings after six.

A highlight of Richmond's annual Round-up Days, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 27, 28, features the talents of 48 crafters at three prime locations from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Twenty-six crafters will display in the park-like setting at 5505 Kenosha St. (Rte. 173), one block east of Rte. 12 next to Hunter Country Club.

Among the participants will be Pat Johns from Waukesha, Wis. with unique country corn dolls; Martha Crost from Wheeling, with custom Victorian spindle and spoke designs; Lisle Wire from Belvidere, Ill., with loom woven rag rugs; and Dagny Yewell from Waukegan, with a wide selection of animal statues.

Several crafters can also help visitors find unique Christmas gifts and stocking stuffers, and one booth offers a variety of reed, cane, and apple vine country baskets.

Across the street, at 5420 Kenosha St. (Rte. 173), 12 crafters will be selling a variety of crafts, including custom hand stitched quilts by Sue Eddy from Bloomington; pottery by Ray Nelson from McHenry; paintings on barn wood by Char Guest from Antioch; and counted cross stitch pictures by Lynn Diedrick from McHenry.

The third craft fair location is next to Anderson's Candy Shop, downtown Rte. 12. Among the crafters are Richmond residents Larry and Kit Goble, Chris Handley, Judy Johnston, Fran Russo, and Linda Willis. Kit Goble weaves Amana baskets. Other exhibitors are Cheryl Dory of McHenry with custom earrings and Helen Marshall of Burlington, Wis. with calligraphy and handmade handpainted spinning tops.

The craft fairs are sponsored annually by local Richmond merchants, who are organizing Round-up Days activities with Richmond Rotary and Lions members.

For further information contact, Sue Klouda, president of the Richmond Merchants' Assn. at (815) 678-3731.

Lindenhurst meetings

Regular meetings of the Lindenhurst village board are the second and fourth Mondays at 8 p.m. in the village hall, 2301 Sand Lake Rd. Committee meetings are held alternate Mondays at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Robert Ratch encourages all interested persons to attend.

Jerry Lee Lewis full of vitality

by TOM WITCOM

If there were any lingering doubts about the vitality of the romance with the '50's rock-n-roller Jerry Lee Lewis dispelled them.

During his latest performance at Ravinia, a red hot Lewis had his audience bopping in the aisles. There also was a whole lot of shakin' going on in the lawn area--and even in the parking lot.

Few can recapture the style of the era quite like Lewis. The nostalgia trip commences from the moment he lays into his piano.

Sharing the program with Lewis was Bo Diddley, a fill-in for Chuck Berry. The 59-year-old Diddley, who said he cut his teeth on rock on 47th St. in Chicago, is starting to show his age. Diddley appeared with a backup group that seemed more concerned with cranking up volume than creating a '50's sound. And by sticking to a very limited repertoire, Diddley failed to ignite the crowd.

There was nothing listless at Ravinia a few nights earlier, when a classy all-jazz program took the stage. With five groups, each averaging 40 minutes, it made for a diverse, if somewhat long, show.

Some selections by the James Newton Quintet, BassDrumBone and Phil Woods Quintet were so ultramodern they were hard to follow. At first their unfamiliar sounds seemed disjointed, although eventually they came together, the underlying discipline manifesting itself.

When the World Saxophone Quartet marched onstage, their luxurious sounds promised a treat to the ears--a promise they fulfilled.

All that remained was for anchorman Dizzy Gillespie to put the final icing on the show.

Meteor showers on way

Every year at this time one is able to see the best of the meteor showers, the Perseid, named after the constellation Perseus from which direction they come.

They are at their peak after midnight of Aug. 12, but can be seen before midnight and a few days before and after their peak.

A meteor shower results when the earth passes through dust particles left from a passing comet. The Perseids came from the comet Swift Tuttle.

FOOT FACTS

From The FOOT DOCTOR

Dr. Winters

Dr. Griff J. Winters & Assoc.

Specializing in Reconstructive Foot & Ankle Surgery

PLANTAR WARTS

Warts are caused by a virus infection and are often mistaken as corns or callouses. Warts on the top of the foot resemble cauliflower in appearance, but plantar warts (note: "Plantar" is the term given to the bottom or sole of the foot) penetrate deep under the skin, due to pressure in standing.

Warts unlike corns and callouses have a center area with dark brown, black, or rust colored spots. These are small blood vessels and nerves. For this reason warts are more painful with side to side pressure. Warts are contagious to susceptible people and are usually found in adolescents. Warts tend to spread and multiple if not treated.

There are many type of treatments that range from acid applications to laser surgery. The mode of treatment will depend on the size, location, and length of time the wart has been painful.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Potempa wins award

Mark Potempa, an 11-year-old gymnast from Lake Zurich, won a "100 Percent Award" at the Prairie State Games.

Potempa competed with the North Shore Region team.

For the fourth consecutive year, NutraSweet presented the awards to a man, woman, boy, or girl who exemplified the grit and determination that go into a 100 percent performance. In addition, the company recognized one volunteer associated with the games.

Potempa, who has been competing since age six, spends up to eight hours a day in training.

Practices start

Now that the summer baseball schedules are completed, Lake County sports athletes are turning their attention toward fall sports.

Practice begins at all county schools on Aug. 15 - the first date allowed under Illinois High School Assn. bylaws.

For example, at Wauconda, equipment for football players will be distributed in C-11 from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m. on Aug. 12. The first practice will be at 8:30 a.m. on Aug. 15 for all levels.

Showing new putter

William Gehl of Dynapro shows latest in putters at U.S. Senior Open golf tournament. Company, which manufactures putters in Wauconda, demonstrated the putter for first time at open held at Medinah. Orville Moody has popularized putter, using it to improve his game and gain status as senior tour's fourth leading money winner.

Wauconda's putter a hit with pros

The gallery was beginning to fill the grandstand at the 18th green at Medinah Country Club.

Just a few feet away, curious golfers walked past a short green, a little uphill. One by one, they tried this newfangled putter, popularized by Orville Moody at the U.S. Senior Open.

And one by one, they came away with a sense of improving one of the trickiest areas of golf-putting.

"There is a learning curve to it. What I found most people can pick it up in 20 minutes of practice," William Gahl, salesman from Dynapro said.

Lake County residents may take special pride when they try the new putter. It is made in Dynapro's Wauconda facility.

There are two different portions of the club, which is made according to height. The left hand is on the top while the right hand is in the mid section. The club is held firmly to the chest.

"The club is heel and toe based to make it more stable," Gahl said.

The senior open at Medinah, a success story with more than 100,000 people attending, was the first public viewing of the club.

Moody finished a consistent 73-76-75 for the first three rounds and then haunted the leaders Gary Player and Bob Charles. Player eventually won the title in an extra 18-hole playoff Monday.

"It simplifies the whole process. When you simplify things, you hope to concentrate on what is important," Gahl said.

Dynapro originally was in the custom-making club business before diversifying to the specialized putter.

"I'd like to commend the United States Golf Assn. A major championship is too important to be decided on by one hole," Player, who once played in a 36-hole playoff, said.

Antioch trio contributes to success

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

Imagine, if just for a moment, playing on a baseball team.

Now, this is no ordinary baseball team. The schedule starts in June and ends in August, true but by the time the season is over, players will have traveled some 8,000 miles. Playing in the best facilities and against the best teams as well.

That may sound impossible, but it was reality for three Antioch baseball players Jon DiBernardis, Mike Bablo and Jason Belucci. The three were significant parts of the success of Waukegan Ace Hardware Team this summer.

The team finished with a 25-20 record while competing in such places as Lexington, Cincinnati, Nashville's Conway Twitty Tournament and a tournament at St. Louis.

Bablo contributed a 4-3 record as a pitcher while Belucci, also a pitcher, hit .354.

"He should do well representing Antioch High next spring. He has great hand-eye coordination," Coach Ralph Bufano said of Belucci.

DeBernardis is the youngest player on the Midwest All-Stars team of 16-18-year-olds and Bufano sees a bright future for him.

"Jon is the best receiver we have. He's 5-11 and it's a matter of him getting stronger. We hope to have him another two years," Bufano said.

Players have a chance to perform in front of major league and college scouts, giving them an edge at scholarship or draft time.

"With 25 players, our main thing is participation ahead of winning at all costs. The players on the team have already experienced winning with their high school teams. That's the most important thing to point out," Bufano said.

For the serious baseball player, though, the Ace Hardware Team represents an opportunity.

"He gets an opportunity to choose. Now he can get truly out of his environment and be serious about baseball. He does not have to divide his time," Bufano said.

Atkinson captures ninth victory at Wilmot race

Kenosha's Allen Winker wheeled the Winker-Nichol homebuilt chassis to his second feature win of the season talking top honors in the 25-lap J&L Oil Interstates Racing Ass. winged sprint car headliner on Auto Parts Plus of Antioch. Night at Toft Racing's Wilmot Speedway in Wilmot on Aug. 6.

Pleasant Prairie's Al Atkinson captured his ninth feature win of the season and 23rd checkered flag in the Moore Oil Co.-Precision Automotive-American Built Chassis Firebird in the 20-lap Wilmot late model main. Milwaukee's Bob Sopha won his second 15-lap streeter beater stock in his City Veteran Taxi Pontiac. Bob Olson of Waukegan became the 13th different main event winner as his Deerfield-

Highland Park Transit B.C. Automotive Camaro to his first feature win of the season in the 15-lap spectator stock finale.

Al Schmidt jumped in front of the sprint main and held the top spot through a caution on lap 12 when defending champion Donald Dodd spun. Three laps later the caution flew again as Joe Kristan and Larry Hillerud tangled in turn four with both mounts knocked out of competition. Schmidt maintained the lead while being hounded by Winker until three laps remained. Winker, known for liking the high side of the track, shot down low and overtook Schmidt down the front straightaway.

In the spectator feature, Raymond Hensley led the first four laps before Olson took the lead. The caution then came out on lap 12 when Larry Surlata spun. Olson pulled away to score the win with Bobby Griers, John Poehler, John Janssen and Hensley rounding out the top five.

In upcoming events, on Aug. 12 Johnny D's Pier 83 restaurant in Grayslake will sponsor winged sprints and modifieds at the Wisconsin Clay Center of Speed.

Sanchez wins tournament, notches spot in final round

The individual tournament champions have been decided and now it comes down to the nitty-gritty in the Coca-Cola-Penn-Lakeland Publishers tennis tournament.

Mundelein Park Dist. will be the host for the final rounds of play, which began Aug. 12. The players who won the individual tournaments plus those who garnered enough points along the way will advance.

Joe Sanchez was the last winner, winning the Rould Lake championship Sunday. Sanchez defeated Mark Norby in a three-set thriller. After winning the first set 7-5, Sanchez lost the second set 6-3 before winning the third and deciding set 6-2.

Norby received two points for his efforts while Ben Floyd and Kip Evans each had one.

Two-time winners Dave Buksa and Bob Moran will lead the men's field in the finals.

228-101 Taft
Landmark Designs

18th Century exterior-Modern amenities

By Landmark Designs

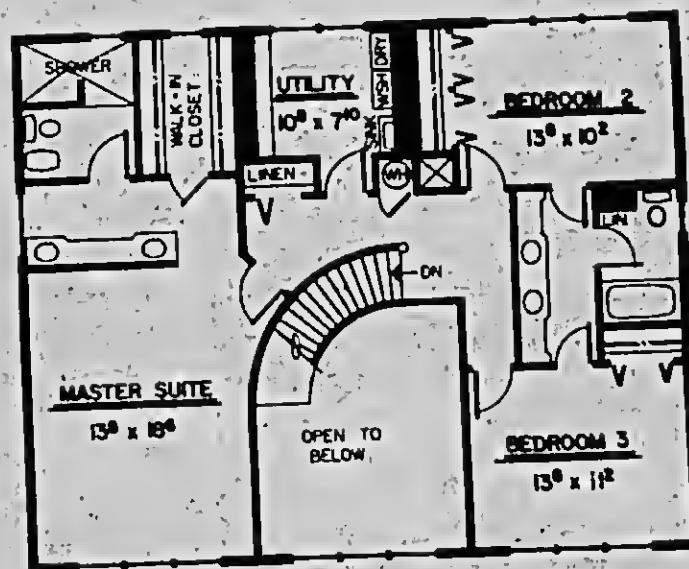

The Taft is solid Colonial tradition. From the tall columns of the front porch to the formal library and parlour, the house harks back to a stately elegance. The family room on one side and garage on the other are virtually outbuildings to the central two story manor. This effect is enhanced by the use of brick on the wings, in contrast to the lap board siding of the main house.

The entry foyer is a spacious room in itself, bounded by the library, the living room, and a central curving staircase. Upstairs, the sleeping quarters include a master suite, with walk-in closet, vanity, and bath. Two smaller bedrooms share a double vanity and a separate bathroom compartment. On both levels, daylight pours in front and back through tall windows.

While preserving an eighteenth-century exterior, the Taft takes full advantage of modern amenities. The kitchen includes room for a double sink and built-in dishwasher. A large utility room is located upstairs for easy laundry handling. While such a large number of rooms could present a traffic problem, the Taft is designed for easy movement throughout the floor plan. Except for the library, all the rooms open to at least two other rooms or halls. All of the rooms at the back of the house—the solarium, dining room, and family room—have doors to the rear deck. For all its formality, the Taft is not at all restrictive, and offers a variety of living environments within a few steps of one another.

For a study plan of the Taft (228-101), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2832, Eugene, OR 97402. (Be sure to specify plan name & number when ordering). Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also are invited to contact Landmark.

Aquanuts take third in championships

The Twin Lakes Aquanuts Water Ski Team took third place in the National Amateur Water Ski Championships held on the Rock River in Janesville last weekend.

The Twin Lakes team, former triple crown winners, was 241 points behind the winning host team, the Rock Aqua Jays.

The Rock Aqua Jays, six times national champions, posted 2,274 points; the second place winners, Rockford's Ski Broncs had 2,155 points and the Aquanuts, 2,033.

The Aquanuts give free performance every Saturday (except during competition) at Lance Park in Twin Lakes.

Library wanted to serve school

Lake Villa grade schools should have a central library, says one of the newest board of education members, David Rogowski.

Following a tour of some classrooms and looking at some of the dated, worn books he said the idea of a central library for students was driven home to him. "The value of reading cannot be overstated," he told the board at its July 20 meeting. He said the 150 to 200 books per shelf he found was inadequate, in his estimation.

"I am just not comfortable with the current system," he said of his findings. "My idea of an effective library is a central one," he told the board. This will give students more variety and, possibly, enable them to share this activity with parents, he said.

Board members replied that this idea was reviewed for two years until recently. It was rejected for several reasons, including the availability of the Lake Villa Twp. Library located midway between Lindenhurst and Lake Villa.

Rogowski is to be provided with material reviewed by the board previously. If he still feels the idea of a central library is important, a committee meeting will be called.

Water meter not needed for firemen

Some village officials think the Lake Villa Fire Dept. headquarters on Grand Ave. needs a water meter to tell them how much water is being consumed at that location.

The fire department now pays a minimum charge each month for water. It is used for "topping off" the tank truck when returning from a small fire where only a minimum amount of water is used. At fires where large quantities of water is used the tank truck is replenished from a fire hydrant.

Fire Chief Frank

Slazes thinks a $900 water meter is unnecessary, but has told the village it will install one to be a good neighbor.

A check of nearby communities shows Antioch meters the firemen's headquarters, Fox Lake does not and Round Lake does not because too many firemen wash their car at the fire station.

The village board will study the matter

Army man gets post

Col. Thomas J. Konitzer, whose mother lives in Lake Villa, has taken over command of the 6th Cavalry Air Combat Brigade at Ft. Hood, Tx., in a June ceremony.

Before going to Ft. Hood he was assigned to the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. He previously served tours of duty in Germany, Israel, Colorado, Washington and Vietnam. His awards include the Legion of Merit with one oak leaf cluster, the Bronze Star, the Army Commendation Medal, the Republic of Vietnam Cross of Gallantry with oak leaf clusters, the Air Medal and United Nations Medal.

The brigade Konitzer commands was the first unit in the Army to field the Apache attack helicopter and also flies the Blackhawk and Chinook cargo helicopters.

PAINS

Tracking down the cause of strain or pain in the legs, thighs or lower back can produce surprises. Sometimes the pain is the result of a slight difference in leg lengths or of an abnormal pattern of foot movement.

When those are the causes, the symptoms often can be reduced or eliminated by means of orthotic inserts that slip into the shoes.

Orthotics for this purpose are usually made of leather, steel or synthetics. Each is customized to the individual foot, using a plaster of paris mold made in the podiatrist's office.

Such rigid orthotics are designed for use in regular shoes. Other types of orthotics serve different purposes. Semi-rigid inserts are used by runners and those in other sports. Soft orthotics help to absorb shock and to take pressure off sensitive parts of the foot.

Bennett honor graduate

Private Kerry Bennett, a 1986 graduate of Grant High School, entered Basic Training for the U.S. Army in February. He completed Advanced Individual Training at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas, on June 24 and was designated the Distinguished Honor Graduate for placing first in his class at the Academy of Health Sciences. The Academy trains members of all branches of the armed services. Fewer than 10 percent of all Service enlistees can qualify to be considered for study at the Academy. Kerry, the son of Kurt and Sharon Bennett, Lake Villa will be stationed in Europe for two years.

Village gives itself liquor license

Lindenhurst not only issues liquor licenses, it now holds one. This makes it possible for the village to sell beer and wine.

That's what it will do for Lindenfest, which will be from Wednesday, Aug. 17, through Sunday, Aug. 21. Since the Lindenfest Planning Committee learned its insurance would be too costly, it asked the village to take out the license. The village will be protected under provisions of the state dram law.

The change will save the committee several thousand dollars.

The village board issued a Class D liquor license to itself at a July 25 meeting. A new provision in the liquor license code allows issuance of a temporary license to serve beer or wine to a non-profit organization or the village itself for community recreation purposes.

Although the village will be the official holder of the license, members of the Lindenfest committee will do the actual serving.

Water main pump is easy solution

After lots of village engineers, several new motors, lots of repairs and more than a little overtime Lake Villa may soon solve a long-standing water main pump problem.

Cost to correct a booster pump problem in a water main near the First American Bank of Lake County, 500 E. Grand Ave., will be about $4,000. The actual cost to install a new 3 horsepower jockey pump is about $3,600, but Village Engineer James Smith of Applied Technologies Inc. said it could go to $4,000.

The added pump will repay for itself in one year, he predicted. This will be accomplished by having the existing 10 horsepower pump operate one-tenth of the time, reduced electrical costs, lower maintenance costs and manpower to correct the problem of the existing pump breaking down.

Most of the savings will come from not replacing the larger pump as often.

Smith said the existing pump runs almost constantly to main water pressure in a line on the east side of the village. This now will be done by the auxiliary jockey pump, which will be installed with a bypass around the larger pump. The larger pump will still operate during periods of heavy demand.

The pump problem has been a constant maintenance problem for Lake Villa over many years. Smith said use of the jockey pump is an accepted practice in water systems. Some village trustees said they were surprised some of the village's former engineers did not suggest such a pump.

Hoover Well Co. of Libertyville will install the pump and piping.

Set up clinics

Well Baby Clinics are being conducted by the Kenosha County Health Dept. Appointments are available for infants and children, birth to age six. Clinics are held in Paddock Lake.

Examinations include head-to-toe assessments, height and weight, vision and hearing testing, urinalysis and blood anemia testing. Immunizations will be offered if needed. A donation of $1 per immunization is requested.

Health promotion and health education will be offered with emphasis on normal child growth and development.

Appointments may be made by calling the Kenosha County Health Dept. at (414) 656-6434 or 1-800-472-8008 (a toll-free number) and asking to be connected with the above department.

Lindenhurst meets

Regular meetings of the Lindenhurst village board are the second and fourth Mondays at 8 p.m. in the village hall, 2301 Sand Lake Rd. Committee meetings are held alternate Mondays at 7:30 p.m. Mayor Robert Ratch encourages all interested persons to attend.

Scottish preacher is guest

Next speaker in the series of 10 Outstanding Summer Sunday Nights sponsored by the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church will be from Scotland.

The Rev. Ian Leitch of Edinburgh will speak on Sunday, Aug. 14, at 6 p.m. in the church's temporary facilities at the Antioch Veterans of Foreign Wars Home, North Ave., just east of Rte. 83. His appearance marks the seventh in the continuing series.

The Rev. Leitch is an evangelist and Bible teacher. He has spent the past 17 years as an itinerant minister traveling extensively in Britain, North America and parts of Europe. Three fourths of his year is devoted to work with churches in Britain.

Reared in the Charlotte Baptist Chapel in Edinburgh, he has worked closely with the Scottish Baptist Union. However, he often leads at evangelist outreaches or missions with Anglican and Presbyterian churches as well.

From 1980 to 1984 he was involved in Mission England, an evangelist program in Britain coordinated by Billy Graham, Luis Palau and many churches in that country.

A strong communicator, the Rev. Leitch has both an enthusiasm and commitment to the gospel he preaches. For more information call the church at (312) 356-2090.

Township meetings

Meetings of the Lake Villa Twp. board are held the second and fourth Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the township hall, 37908 N. Fairfield Rd. Supervisor Dorothy Thompson invites all interested persons to attend.

Rev. Ian Leitch

Linden-Villa church dedicated at opening

Linden-Villa Baptist Church at 38869 Deep Lake Rd., on the border of Lindenhurst and Lake Villa was dedicated on Aug. 7. Following a ground breaking last year volunteers worked throughout the winter and spring to prepare the church for July occupancy.

The church began in July 1980 as a Bible study group of four people living in Lindenhurst. Four months later it had grown to 11 meeting for Sunday worship at B.J. Hooper School in Lindenhurst.

The church purchased four acres of land on Deep Lake Rd. in 1983. The church was chartered in 1986. Pastor is the Rev. Howard G. Murray. Speaker for the dedication was the Rev. L.D. Patrick.

Letters Invited

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain home address and telephone numbers. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

H&R Block to Offer Tax School In This Area

Thousands of people are learning the skill of income tax preparation from H&R Block and are earning money as income tax preparers.

H&R Block, the world's largest income tax preparation service, is offering a basic income tax course starting September 7th & 8th with morning, and evening classes available. Classes will be offered at many convenient area locations.

During the 13 week course, students will study all phases of income tax preparation and receive actual experience in preparing individual returns. Experienced Block instructors will teach current laws, theory and application, as practiced in Block offices nationwide. There is a classroom discussion on each tax subject and practice problems at every level. Courses are programmed to teach students increasingly complex tax problems as study progresses. Students will find the course both interesting and challenging.

Courses are ideally suited for people who want to increase their tax knowledge and learn how to save money on taxes or who are looking for a rewarding career. No prerequisites are required to enroll.

Qualified course graduates may be offered job interviews for positions with Block. Many accept employment with Block because of the flexible hours available. However, Block is under no obligation to offer employment, nor are graduates under any obligation to accept employment with H&R Block.

One low course fee includes all textbooks, supplies and tax forms necessary for the completion of the course. Certificates and 7.5 continuing education units will be awarded upon successful completion of the course. Master, Visa and Discover cards are accepted, or a time payment plan is available.

Registration forms and a brochure for the income tax course may be obtained by contacting H&R Block office at 629 W. Rollins Rd., Round Lake, IL (312) 546-4862 or 123 N. Main St., Wauconda, IL (312) 526-8877.
